JOB FAMILY AND FUNCTION

Job Family:	University Advancement
Job Function:	Engagement, Annual Giving, & Campaign

JOB SUMMARY

The Tiger Giving Officer conducts strategic outreach and connects individual alumni with Auburn University to increase alumni philanthropic giving, all through phone calls and virtual means. Collaborates across all areas of Auburn Advancement and Auburn University, while generating personal connection and individual-level understanding to increase affinity and investment. Assesses patterns across portfolio interactions to refine outreach, cultivation, solicitation, and stewardship strategies that will increase and enhance engagement and fundraising outcomes. The Tiger Giving Officer develops portfolio management plans, personalized messaging, and individualized giving plans, and collaborates with aligned teams to drive, affinity and investment in Auburn. Responsible for expanding the pipeline of mid-level giving while deepening engagement and connection with a portfolio of alumni- thereby moving prospects towards invested ownership, to fuel the purpose of Auburn University.

RESPONSIBILITIES

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Actively engages virtually, through means such as phone calls and online communication, with a portfolio of alumni, with well-defined weekly, monthly, and annual goals of cultivating and soliciting gifts in the range of $1,000 - $10,000. Connects virtually and proactively builds relationships with alumni to assess their philanthropic interests and connects them with areas of Auburn University that align with their interests, thereby heightening impactful alumni giving. Utilizes technology, social media platforms, and video conferencing software tools to build rapport, steward, and solicit donors in an alumni-centric, targeted, high-velocity manner. Executes monthly and quarterly touchpoint cadences across portfolio to maintain consistent and meaningful communication with donors in their portfolio. Creates personalized stewardship plans for alumni and donors, deepening engagement with Auburn. Awareness of engagement and philanthropic opportunities across the University (regional alumni events, on-campus events, mentorship, and volunteer opportunities, crowdfunding campaigns, fundraising priorities) to inform conversations and solicitations. Proactively monitors engagement to identify and launch initiatives that drive donations and deepen the engagement experience. Creates collaborative relationships with development and engagement colleagues across the University. The nature of this role is highly externally focused, requiring frequent meetings on and off campus during regular and non-traditional business hours, and is therefore expected to operate with high-levels of autonomy. Performs other related duties as assigned.
